We are currently working on the next version (2.2l) with a new order button design, new rules, new charts, new calculators and even more. The Namirial Regolo BIM is the latest version of an add-on module to the Namirial Termo that enables the visualization of the floorplan (building, interior, exterior) and the calculation of the metrics of a building by calculating the evolution of the costs of materials and work. The Namirial Termo is the basic software version of Namirial with all the basic functionalities. The full version allows for the integration of all the add-on modules, the possibility of exporting the data in XML format, the addition of drawings and designs from other applications, the multi-floor calculation, the optimization and optimization of the strategies of production and the calculation of the costs of technologies for the production of certain projects. This means that if we have a floorplan, or if we have just a few architectural designs, the basic Namirial Termo is enough. In this case, the basic version offers a very complete system with limited basic functionalities. If however we already have a detailed information of the plans, we will be required to pay for the full version. It allows us to quickly visualize the floorplan, calculate the quantity of materials and tasks required and also combine all the information in a single file.
